

Put Teaching and Learning

at the Center of Student Success

Achieving the Dream's comprehensive services empower your college to best serve all students.

Effective teaching and learning practices are at the heart of maximizing student outcomes. We help colleges build the infrastructure they need to offer high quality teaching and learning so they can:

- ▶ Reach and teach every student
- ▶ Employ impactful, practical classroom strategies
- ▶ Design more dynamic, relevant, and culturally responsive courses

Specific strategies include:

- ▶ Implementing research-based instructional practices
- ▶ Deepening your college's integration of equity-based teaching and learning
- ▶ Strengthening alignment between faculty hiring practices, professional development offerings, and policies for faculty evaluation, retention, and promotion
- ▶ Creating, strengthening, and sustaining robust hubs of faculty innovation, peer learning and support
- ▶ Empowering full-time and adjunct faculty to connect their students with the myriad personal supports available to them

Achieving the Dream™

Customized Teaching and Learning Supports

Every college is at a different stage of teaching and learning development. Achieving the Dream provides a variety of support modules to supplement and augment the teaching and learning capacity at your college.

Three-Year Capacity Building Package

Our most robust and intensive package helps build a lasting and vibrant culture of teaching and learning excellence, specifically customized for your institutional needs. With a combination of on-site visits and on-going virtual support, our expert T&L coaching team will assess your college's current teaching and learning capacity and develop and implement a prioritized action plan for scaling institutional change.

Onsite Assessment

Facilitated by two of ATD's expert coaches, the two-day onsite assessment identifies challenges and opportunities unique to your institution, and unifies faculty and college leadership around an implementation plan going forward.

Teaching & Learning Workshop

This full-day workshop provides professional development for a broad range of institutional stakeholders and builds foundational understanding in specific teaching and learning topics including: evidence based culturally responsive practices, guided student pathways, Open Educational Resources, and digital learning.

Open Educational Resources Case-Making & Strategy Workshop

This full-day workshop provides a deep dive into how OER can be sustainably implemented to help transform a college's vision for teaching and learning.

Scan this code to find out more about how Achieving the Dream's Teaching and Learning Services can benefit you.

Let us help you build capacity in teaching and learning.

Visit <https://www.achievingthedream.org/our-services/teaching-and-learning> or contact us today at teachingandlearning@achievingthedream.org for a free consultation to get started.

Achieving the Dream™

Since 2004, Achieving the Dream has helped hundreds of colleges and millions of students achieve their goals of success. Informed by research and more than 15 years of practice with institutions of varying demographics, sizes, and contexts, ATD has helped colleges:

- Enable institution-wide systems and culture change
- Envision the ideal student experience
- Prioritize the barriers to student success
- Share evidence-based strategies for change
- Anticipate necessary changes in college structures and processes
- Plan how to engage stakeholders in making the case for change
- Beta-test strategies for improvement
- Track implementation progress and impact of change initiatives

